

International symposium on peripheral nerve disorders “Frontiers and developments in peripheral neuropathy”
Danish Neurological Society
Danish Society of Clinical Neurophysiology

Investigation and insight into peripheral nerve disorders are becoming increasingly important since several acquired and inherited neuropathies are treatable. In parallel with these developments in therapeutic possibilities new and exciting diagnostic tools are becoming available. In this one day program we propose to cover aspects of peripheral neuropathies with particular emphasis on treatment, pathogenesis and diagnosis.

We therefore hope that you will join us at this meeting:
